USGS EARTH SCIENCE INFORMATION CENTERS (ESIC)

ESIC's offer nationwide information and sales service for USGS map products and earth science publications.

The ESIC's provide information about:

- geologic, hydrologic, topographic, and land use maps, books, and reports;
- aerial, satellite, and radar images and related products;
- earth science and map data in digital format and related applications software; and
- geodetic data.

Ordering and Information

ESIC's can fill orders for custom products such as aerial photographs and orthophoto quadrangles, digital cartographic data, and geographic names data.

ESIC's can also provide information about earth science materials from many public and private producers in the United States using automated catalog systems for information retrieval and research services.

Call 1-800-USA-MAPS to contact an ESIC.
